

Online Resident Licensing (ORL): ORL is a service offered through the National Association of Insurance Commissioners. ORL provides a web-based method to apply for a New Hampshire resident producer license. Individuals that have passed their Licensing Exam(s) can log in using their SSN and last name. Individuals may apply without an exam score, but will not be approved without verification of a passed exam. Business entities (agencies) applying for a resident producer license must designate an active producer licensed in New Hampshire. If documentation is required to complete the application, applicants can attach the needed documents electronically. Apply for a New Hampshire resident producer license.
